FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR.

WOMAN TELLS A STARTLING STORY

Strange Tale of Murder, Impersonation and Parole at Coroner's Inquest.

THE DEATH OF YOUNG HARPER.

Official Inquiry Results in Aunt of Dead Boy Relating a Tale that Reads Like Fiction.

A $60,000 ESTATE INVOLVED.

Lad's Mother Slain by His Father Years Ago—Aunt Now Suspects Him of "Removing" Son.

In Justice Dana T. Smith's court this afternoon, a remarkable story concerning the death of seventeen-year-old George M. Hill, alias Harper, whose dead body was found in a room at the Fields lodginghouse on Friday morning by the police, is being unfolded.

At first the young man's death was thought to have been caused by his own hand. It was believed that death resulted from an overdose of morphine, self-administered, with suicidal intent, but later, Mrs. T. M. Harper, an aunt of the boy, told a story that, for a time, created a sensation in official circles. She professed to believe that the young man was foully murdered, at the instigation of the boy's father, who is in Indiana.

But upon further investigation and careful consideration of all the known facts, her story is discredited by the county attorney. An inquest is being held nevertheless, but for the purpose, it is given out, of having the facts in the case made a matter of record.

MURDERED BOY'S MOTHER.

Following is the story told to County Attorney Christensen by Mrs. Harper, the boy's aunt: She said that when she was only six months of age, when Hill was only six months of age, there was considerable trouble in the Hill family, and that the father shot and killed his wife, mother of young Hill. He then shot Mrs. Harper in the breast and caused a serious wound and threatened to kill the baby and terminate the entire household. For this offense Hill was arrested, he said, and was convicted of murder, but by an agreement of the attorneys was given a sentence of life imprisonment in the Indiana state prison, from which institution he was paroled recently.

BIG ESTATE INVOLVED.

According to Mrs. Harper, there was quite a bit of trouble for carrying a concealed weapon, and was given 15 days on the rock pile by Judge Diehl. She took the name of his aunt, Harper. When in jail he became addicted to the use of morphine and was very sick a few days before his term expired, and was also quite ill when released from jail. He fell in with a man named A. E. Tryon, who took him to the Fields and procured a room for him. It was Tryon who found the dead body on Friday morning, and notified the police. Detective Burt and other officers concluded that the young man died from an overdose of morphine, but they were not satisfied that it was either a case of murder or suicide.

IN JAIL HERE.

Shortly after young Hill came to Salt Lake, he got into trouble for carrying a concealed weapon, and was given 15 days on the rock pile by Judge Diehl. She took the name of his aunt, Harper. When in jail he became addicted to the use of morphine and was very sick a few days before his term expired, and was also quite ill when released from jail. He fell in with a man named A. E. Tryon, who took him to the Fields and procured a room for him. It was Tryon who found the dead body on Friday morning, and notified the police. Detective Burt and other officers concluded that the young man died from an overdose of morphine, but they were not satisfied that it was either a case of murder or suicide.

A STARTLING STORY.

After the young man's death, Mrs. Harper, who had been at Richfield, came here and told her story, and stated that she believed that the boy's father had employed someone here to murder the boy so that he (Hill) would die. She called on Capt. Burdick yesterday afternoon late and told him that she did not believe that the young man committed suicide, and that she had reason to suspect foul play. Her story is not credited by County Atty. Christensen. He says there are many phases of it that are wholly improbable.

RECORD NOT THE BEST.

Young Hill did not have the best record since coming to Utah. He was sent to the reform school from Richfield, and after getting out of that institution he was sent to jail at Bingham for vagrancy. When he came to Salt Lake, he was arrested on suspicion of having stolen some chickens, but was given 15 days for carrying a revolver. At that time he gave the name of Rogers.

OFFICERS IN DOUBT.

As the case stands at the present time, Mrs. Harper's story and theory as to the boy's death being caused by the father, who is still in Indiana, it is said, is unsupported by any facts that the officials have been able to get hold of. The officers believe that the young man died from severe illness and perhaps the injudicious use of the deadly drug, morphine. He was very sick when he was taken to the Fields by Tryon, Mrs. Mellor, who runs the roominghouse, confirmed that fact this morning.

INQUEST NOW ON.

An inquest is now being held before Judge Smith by a jury composed of Edward Pickering, J. McDonald and J. W. Reed. County Atty. Christensen is conducting the hearing, and the following witnesses are being examined this afternoon:

A. E. Tryon, Mrs. Mellor, Detective Burt, Mrs. Harper, W. Thomas, Dr.

KILLED AT PARK CITY.

H. B. Hampton Meets His Fate in the Silver King Mine.

(Special to the "News.") Park City, May 24.—H. B. Hampton, who for the past 12 years has been employed at the Silver King mine in various capacities, met his death in that property this morning by falling onto the main shaft of the machinery in such a manner as to be caught in the pulley, which tore his clothes from his body and mangled him almost beyond recognition. The exact cause of the accident will perhaps never be known, as no one seemed to observe it until Mr. Hampton's form was seen in the pulley. As quickly as possible, the machinery was stopped and the body released, but at this time life was extinct.

The deceased was about 20 years of age and very popular. He was formerly a member of the Silver King mine. Mr. Hampton was the son of Benjamin Hampton of Salt Lake and a brother of Grant Hampton of the Consolidated Wagon & Lumber company. He was a member of the Elks lodge, and a prominent Mason, under whose auspices the funeral will very likely be conducted in Salt Lake. His father is expected here this evening. The dead man is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Dean Pearson, but leaves no children.

CARPENTERS OUT WITH ULTIMATUM

Those of Las Vegas Fix Wages at Four Dollars for a Day of Eight Hours.

ALL SIGN THE AGREEMENT.

New Town on Salt Lake Route is Building Up Rapidly—Auto Trip To Bullfrog.

(Special to the "News.")

Las Vegas, Nev., May 24.—At a meeting of the Las Vegas carpenters and contractors last night, it was agreed that carpenters would refuse to work with others whose hours of labor were more than eight per day, at the same time fixing the wages at $4. An agreement to this effect was drawn up and signed by every working carpenter in town. Only one apprentice is allowed to every five carpenters. No union of any kind has been formed here as yet. This action of the carpenters will have no influence on the building of our new town, on which work is progressing by rapid strides.

An auto made the trip to Bullfrog and came back to Vegas by way of a new road yesterday. This is the first conveyance of the kind to reach that point from here. Their success is hailed as evidence that soon the 100-mile trip will be made in five hours, as a regular thing.

Las Vegas is building up very rapidly and a number of the houses formerly built at the old town are being hauled up to the Clark's Las Vegas. Together with the great number that are being erected, the new town promises to be the metropolis of this whole southern country within the next 30 days.

MRS. FISKE'S LECTURE.

It Will be at Barratt Hall on Monday—Theatrical Trust's Theme.

Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske will for the first time on next Monday evening at Barratt Hall appear before a Salt Lake audience as her natural self. Heretofore she has been Becky Sharp, and Mary of Magdala, and other dramatic personages, but for this evening she will be just Mrs. Fiske, one of the most talented actresses and one of the pickiest women in America.

The story of Mrs. Fiske's struggle against the theatrical trust is the most interesting in current dramatic history. Ever since the trust was formed, nine years ago, Mrs. Fiske has been a pioneer in its fight. Few other players of prominence have been. Mrs. Fiske and her manager, Harrison Gray Fiske, have been the trust's bitterest enemies. She has been playing in second-class theaters where first class plays were not available. During this time Mrs. Fiske has produced many successful plays, and has done much for the advancement of the theater in New York, where she only recently closed a season of 3 weeks.

The syndicate which has endeavored to bring every theater and company under its control, thus this brilliant and popular actress succeeding in spite of its opposition. Salt Lake City is one of many cities where the trust has closed against itself. Mrs. Fiske will appear here in "The Theatrical Trust," and she will explain what the trust is and how it affects Salt Lake City. Her appearance here is under the auspices of the Press club, and the entire proceeds, except actual expenses, will be devoted to the Children's Aid and Home Finding association, and the infants' Home and Day Nursery.

MURRAY'S NEW LIFE.

Will Be Aggressive and Upward as a City of the Second Class.

Murray took a big step upward towards an active and aggressive city life last night when her city council voted to annex the "Twenty-fourth school district and make Murray a city of the second class. The proposition was taken up on the petition of residents of the school district and went through with but little opposition. The proclamation declaring Murray a second class city, will be made by the mayor, after the boundaries have been fixed and a list of residents filed with the county clerk.

NO UNRESTRICTED DEBATE IN RUSSIA

Zemstvos, Doumas and Other Provincial and District Institutions Forbidden to Indulge in It.

NOT IN SCOPE OF IMPERIALUKASE

Moscow Gazette Has Begun a Bitter War Against Religious Toleration.

St. Petersburg, May 24.—The government has now taken formal measures to prevent the zemstvos, doumas and other provincial and district institutions from indulging in unrestricted debate and adopting resolutions on the subject of a change in the form of government. Interior Minister Baulin has issued a circular declaring that such discussions do not come within the scope of the imperial ukase issued March 3, granting the people freedom to petition the emperor through the committee of ministers on all matters relating to their general welfare. The ruling in effect is that this privilege only applies to the people as individuals and that organized institutions must confine themselves to questions within their competency. The duty of enforcing this inhibition is imposed on the presiding officers who will be amenable to prosecution for permitting infractions. The circular was plainly designed to put an end to the political agitation which has been openly in progress in the zemstvos and doumas throughout the empire.

ANTI-RELIGIOUS TOLERANCE WAR.

St. Petersburg, May 24.—The Moscow Gazette, the leading reactionary organ in Russia, has begun a bitter war against religious toleration, arguing that it will wipe out orthodoxy in the non-orthodox sections of the country. The paper declares that 50,000 Russians in Poland will come under the influence of Roman Catholicism if the Catholics are permitted to proselyte.

The ukase has already had a deplorable effect on the Russian Mujiks, says the Gazette, "among whom stories are current that the emperor is under the influence of the pope. It is even said that the emperor has become a Catholic and that he will be converted to Catholicism will be transported and compelled to live in three provinces."

"This is not a religious war but a Russo-Polish national battle," says the Novoye Vremya this morning attacking what it terms the "insupportable demands of the Jews." The paper declares "are exploiting Russia for the benefit of their pockets but do not show any interest in patriotism, being the real instigators of the revolutionary movement."

OHIO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION MEETS TODAY

Columbus, Ohio, May 24.—Because of the lack of contest in nominations and the late hour in the day set for the first session, the majority of the delegates to the Republican state convention did not reach the city until today. Those who arrived yesterday included a number of leaders who conferred until a late hour over the declaration of principles, their number being increased during the night by the arrival of Gov. Herrick.

It was definitely announced that owing to the meeting of the senate interstate committee tomorrow and because of his health, Senator Foraker had given up his intention to be present during the convention.

The agenda for today includes an afternoon meeting of the state committee for the consideration of matters of final routine, following which the various district delegates will select their vice presidents and members for the convention committee.

The morning trains consequently brought in several hundred delegates and before noon the hotel lobbies were crowded and the city took on a livelier convention appearance.

Platform discussions continued, interspersed with heated contests over representation in the convention committees. The convention will be called to order at 4 o'clock and after the speech of Temporary Chairman Taft and announcement of committees, will adjourn until tomorrow.

Gov. Herrick, Justice of the Supreme Court Davis, Atty. Gen. L. H. Harris, Treasurer McKenney and members of the public works, Kirtley will be re-nominated at tomorrow's session without opposition, while the opposition to the nomination of Gen. A. L. Harris for lieutenant-governor may be wholly withdrawn before the opening of the second day's session.

QUELLED SHOOTING CASE.

Emma Flynn Claims to Have Killed J. M. Specht for Burglar.

MacArthur, O. May 24.—J. M. Specht, a prominent farmer and miller, and member of the Democratic executive committee of Vinton county, was shot late last night by Mrs. Emma Flynn, formerly of Columbus. Mrs. Flynn was arrested today, charged with the murder. She claims that near midnight she noticed what she supposed to be a tramp looking into her window, and that she fired through the glass and barbed herself in the house.

Specht's body was found by his family early today, on the lawn in front of the Flynn home, with a bullet hole through his head.

Mrs. Specht and Mrs. Flynn are cousins, and the families have been on the best of terms.

Missing Sailor Turns Up.

Bellingham, Wash., May 24.—One of the three sailors, E. Eck, reported last night missing as a result of the fight between sailors and longshoremen on the steamer Shasta, has turned up safely today. J. Hanson and E. Jackson are still unaccounted for. Members of the crew on the steamer declare that four of the sailors were struck on the head by the attacking party and thrown overboard. Two of these swam ashore. The other two were believed to be Jackson and Hanson. No bodies are yet recovered.

SAILORS HAVE A PITCHED BATTLE.

Grew Out of Dispute Between Their Union and Long Shoremen's Over Loading Timber.

THREE MISSING, SIX WOUNDED

Of Latter, Some Are Shot, Others Cut, But Probably None Fatally.

Bellingham, Wash., May 24.—Three sailors are missing and six wounded as the result of a pitched battle growing out of a dispute between the Sailors' union and the Longshoremen's union over jurisdiction in loading the lumber schooner Shasta at the E. K. Wood Lumber company's dock in this city last night. Some of the wounded are shot and others are badly cut about the head, though none, it is believed, is fatally injured. The names of the missing are: C. Eck, J. Hanson and A. Jackson. They are sailors belonging to the Shasta and were seen on board the vessel and it is believed drowned. The conflict which started about midnight continued for half an hour. According to the longshoremen, they were attacked by the sailors before reaching the ship. The sailors, on the other hand, assert they were in the fore-castle of the schooner and were attacked by the longshoremen. The fighting had stopped and the sailors were returning to the ship when they were brought to this city by a frightened sailor, who came to police headquarters for protection. According to his story, 75 longshoremen and 25 sailors were engaged in the fight. Police Captain Parberry and six officers went to the mill, which is in the outskirts of the city, but when the officers arrived, the fighting had stopped and the participants had disappeared. The officers returned to the city, making no arrests. It is believed that the sailors were victorious and beat the longshoremen off. The fighting among the shoremen is very bitter and it is feared more trouble will occur today.

CASTRO DECREES AMNESTY TO EXPATRIATED VENEZUELAN

New York, May 24.—President Castro has signaled the opening of congress and the beginning of his constitutional presidency for six years, cables the Caracas correspondent of the Herald. By decreeing amnesty to all Venezuelans for political reasons have been expatriated, and they are permitted to return to their country. The amnesty also extends to political prisoners in Venezuela below the grade of colonel. There are about 1,500 political prisoners confined in the dungeons of Caracas, La Guira, Puerto Cabello and Matucabo.

A national holiday has been declared on May 25 of every year, commemorating the beginning of Castro's revolution.

LOCKED OUT.

Ten Thousand Men of Rockmen's and Excavators' Union.

New York, May 24.—Between ten and twelve thousand men belonging to the Rockmen's and Excavators' union have been locked out by the Contractors' Protective association in this city. By tomorrow it is expected that the lockout will be extended to 25,000 members of the union. The workers are already locked out were employed on 100 contracts in various parts of the city.

For several weeks the men have been threatening to strike for various reasons. The contractors have finally decided to force matters, apparently with the object of putting an end to the union. Their decision to lock out the diggers came when the "Teamsters' union agreed to stand by an agreement they have with the association. The lockout will stop work for the time on hundreds of buildings in the city where excavating is just beginning, but it will have no effect on buildings where work has gone beyond the foundation stage.

SITUATION AT THE FRONT IS EXTREMELY TENSE.

Gushu Pass, Manchuria, May 24.—The situation is very tense and the rival commanders are watching each other like hawks. Field Marshal Oyama has made no decisive move. Lieut. Gen. Rennenkampf, however, made a bold reconnaissance at the cost of several hundred casualties, but the correspondent of the Associated Press was not allowed to telegraph the results obtained. It is possible that it was Rennenkampf's cavalry which penetrated Southwest of Pakoman.

A dispatch from Tokyo May 22 said: "A body of the enemy's cavalry, dismounted, attacked Tansheng, on the right bank of the Liao river, 13 miles southwest of Pakoman, on the morning of May 20. After an engagement lasting two hours the enemy retreated in disorder toward the southwest, abandoning 300 killed or wounded."

COOLIE LABOR ON CANAL.

Butte Central Labor Council Protests Against It.

Butte, Mont., May 24.—The Butte Central Labor council, composed of unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, last night addressed to the president of the United States, to congress and the isthmian canal commission a protest against the employment of coolie labor on the canal.

A MURDEROUS MONTANAN.

Michael Haggerty, Miner, Shoots Wife and Son, Then Suicide.

Butte, Mont., May 24.—Michael Haggerty, a miner, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife at their home in this city this morning, shot his 14-year-old son and then blew out his brains. The boy was not seriously injured. Jealousy of the wife is supposed to be the cause.

CHICAGO STRIKE SPREADS RAPIDLY

Workmen Sent Home by the Hundreds and Lumber Yards Closed By the Dozen.

SHEA WILL DEFY KOHLASAAT.

Will Persist in Refusing to Answer Questions—'Let Them Call Their Troops,' He Says.

Chicago, May 24.—Extension of the strike in the lumber district was much more rapid today than yesterday. It was not a slow, reluctant spread today, but a sweeping wholesale affair that sent workmen home in hundreds and closed up lumber yards by the dozen. So complete and thorough was the virtual lockout that in a short time every lumber company in Chicago except two were reported as having practically suspended operations owing to lack of teamsters. It was expected that the two remaining companies would be similarly involved before night.

"Ninety-eight per cent of the lumber business in the city is now crippled," declared Secy. Hooper of the Lumber Men's association. "It is only a matter of a short time when that per cent of the building operations of the city will cease. We are now calling on the Employers' association for teamsters, and until we get them the building business will necessarily suffer."

International President Shea of the Teamsters' union announced his intention today to defy Federal Judge Kohlsaat and Master in Chancery Sherman by persisting in refusing to answer questions at the resumption of the hearing of the alleged violations of the strike injunctions. President Shea based his determination upon the fact that to answer might tend to incriminate him. The strike leader declared that he would suffer himself to be sent to jail or contempt rather than answer the questions.

Relative to the prospective calling out of state troops Mr. Shea said: "I am not calling my troops. That will not alter the situation so far as the teamsters are concerned. The teamsters are not interfering with the operations of wagons on the streets, and neither will the strike be spread to any great extent. We are using our best efforts to keep it within its present limits."

"It would seem to me that the business men of Chicago would not want the soldiers here. With a lot of young men unaccustomed to scenes of excitement, armed with deadly weapons, life will be in danger. At any rate, thousands of people intending to come to Chicago to buy goods will be frightened away and the effect will be serious to many business men. But personally I have nothing to say against the soldiers coming."

The planing mills felt the effect of the lumber strike today, some of them being compelled to shut down. Such and door factories are almost at a standstill, and carpenters all over the city are being laid off. The paralysis in the building industry is becoming today, would extend until at least 100,000 workmen in many trades are out of employment for lack of material.

Secy. E. E. Hodder of the Associated Wood Industries, declared that every union teamster who struck has been formally discharged. The lumber dealers, he said, were following the example of the express companies. Not one of the lumber teamsters who struck, he declared, will ever be re-employed by the lumber dealers.

Atty. Gen. Hoover, of the Employers' association, stated emphatically today that the demand of the union teamsters, and particularly of the express drivers, has been permanently and finally rejected. He declared that further conferences were useless and defended the action of the express companies as "entirely within their rights."

Drivers of the railway express companies, Atty. Mayer said, are constantly in charge of valuable freight and large sums of money. The express drivers have been following the example of the express companies. Not one of the lumber teamsters who struck, he declared, will ever be re-employed by the lumber dealers.

"It is as absurd as it is false," said Atty. Mayer for the teamsters, who are guilty of boycotting. He tried to turn the tables by saying that the express companies are blacklisting. Each of the express companies simply refuses to re-employ any former strikers. As to all others the express companies say, 'You will comply with our rule of 40 years' standing and make application in the usual way.' Each application will be considered the same as before on the basis of individual qualifications. Such a method is no more blacklisting than is the right of the individual to determine for himself whether he will have eggs or chops for breakfast."

Members of the executive board of the International teamsters' union met at the Briggs house today and after some discussion, appointed Edwin Gould of San Francisco to be the active strike director in the case of the U. S. court sending President Shea to jail. Gould is the first vice president of the International union and has been a close follower of Shea and his plans throughout the strike.

FATHER CAPON ON CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA

Pacific, May 24.—The Journal today reproduces a statement recently made by Father Capon, and the place and circumstances of the statement are not disclosed owing to the desire not to put the Russian police on Capon's track. The statement says in part:

"The most important effect of the events of Jan. 22 has been to stir the various elements of the revolutionary movement. The chiefs of the two great revolutionary parties with whom I conferred recognize the complete change in the plans wrought by the events of Jan. 22. Before that time the Social Democracy and other revolutionary organizations in Russia did not recognize the right to propagate the cause by the use of force which was usually called by them terrorist, but which I call upholding the rights of the people. Before the Jan. 22 revolution and the other group now join in recognizing

MUNICIPAL WAR IN PHILADELPHIA

Com'r Durham and Republican Leaders Take Up Gage Thrown Down by Mayor Weaver.

FIGHT WILL BE TO BITTER END.

Extra Session May be Called for Purpose of Making "Ripper" Bills Inoperative.

MAYOR TEMPORARILY RESTRAINED

Proceedings Brought by D. J. Smyth, Former Director of Public Safety—Costello Asks an Injunction.

Philadelphia, May 24.—Insurance Commissioner Durham and other Republican leaders have taken up the gage thrown down by Mayor Weaver and are forming their lines for a fight that doubtless will be to the bitter end. Mr. Durham was in conference with his lieutenants until an early hour this morning, but none of the parties to the conference could be induced to speak of the plans discussed by the "organization" leaders.

It was hinted, however, that an extra session of the legislature might be called for the purpose of making the Philadelphia "ripper" bills, passed during the recent session, inoperative. These bills take from the mayor the power to appoint the directors of public safety and public works and place it in the hands of city councils. Under the act of the last legislature the law does not become operative until the incumbent mayor's term expires in April, 1907. It is not generally believed, however, that the governor or the members of the legislature outside of Philadelphia would approve this plan.

Mayor Weaver reached his office about 9 o'clock today and a few minutes later announced that he had declined later and named Col. Sheldon Potter had taken the oath of office as director of public safety to succeed David J. Smyth, removed. Prior to the mayor's arrival before Judge Gordon, who is associated with Elihu Root of New York as private counsel for Mr. Weaver, called at the latter's office. Mr. Weaver discussed the object of his visit. If the city council passes the new works laws over the mayor's veto, which is probable, an appeal will immediately be made to the courts to prevent the council from taking effect. A legal war will follow, which probably will not end until the United States supreme court has passed on the merits of many business men. But even if the law is upheld, it will be a costly and a long one. Mr. Root, Judge Gordon and other legal talent will be at the mayor's disposal.

Mr. P. Morrow, assistant director of public supplies, who was suspended yesterday, but declined to accept the suspension on the ground no cause had been assigned for it, was not at his office at the usual hour today. Mr. Morrow is the Republican leader of the Twenty-sixth ward.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the conference of the mayor with the United States Senator Penrose, which was in session all of yesterday and last night, was resumed.

Mr. Smyth, former director of public safety, filed a petition in the court of common pleas today asking for an injunction restraining Mayor Weaver from removing him from office and from appointing a temporary director of public safety, against the mayor and Lincoln Acker, who was appointed to the office yesterday by the mayor.

Judge Rainsford granted a temporary injunction restraining Mayor Weaver from removing Directors Smyth and Costello from office, and Monday, May 23, was set as the date for argument on the case.

WILLIAM ZIEGLER DEAD.

Was Well Known as a Promoter of Arctic Exploration.

New York, May 24.—William Ziegler, the "outlaw" explorer and adventurer, died this morning at his country home near Norton, Conn.

He was 60 years of age at last night. Mr. Ziegler had been an invalid since a runaway accident, in which he was injured last October. He sustained internal injuries which he was unable to shake off. He was a member of the New York Yacht club and a few weeks ago by the shock which he sustained on hearing of an accident to his boat, he was so shocked that he cut himself severely.

Last Saturday he suffered a stroke of apoplexy. The statement will probably be made that he died of a heart attack. Ziegler was born in Beaver County, Penn., Sept. 1, 1844. He was educated in the public schools of Iowa and later became a printer's trade. He went into the banking business in 1866, and made considerable money. During the latter years of his life he operated in Brooklyn and other places a large real estate business to the extent of millions of dollars. He had a large fortune at the time of his death.

Ziegler was a member of the public safety committee of the Pennsylvania legislature in 1890 and later became a member of the committee on the part of the Long Island water supply company of the present of the purchase resulting in a large saving to the city.

COMPLAINT ISSUED.

John V. Long May Have to Answer to Charge of Murder.

Assistant County Attorney Lyon today issued a complaint against John V. Long, who was arrested on Saturday, charging him with committing a criminal operation upon a young woman by the name of Lora Jensen. The crime was committed on Friday, May 19. The woman is now in the hospital under treatment, and if the operation proves fatal, Long will be charged with murder.

The complaint was filed in Judge Diehl's court, and a warrant was issued for defendant's arrest. Long was formerly a druggist at Price, but lately has been engaged as a bartender in a local saloon.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.

Samuel H. Carlisle, the old gentleman who was so severely burned several days ago, died this morning at the County Infirmary, at the ripe age of 84 years. The funeral will occur tomorrow from the chapel of Undertaker Joseph William Taylor on West Temple street.
